GENERAL INFORMATION

Alcohol-free Verdejo - Aldea is a refreshing and elegant wine crafted from carefully selected Verdejo grapes grown in sun-drenched Spanish vineyards.

The grapes are harvested early in the morning to preserve their natural freshness and aromas. After gentle pressing, the must is fermented at low temperatures to enhance its fruity character, followed by a specialized process that removes the alcohol while retaining the wine's authentic flavors.

Aged in stainless steel tanks, this alcohol-free Verdejo delivers bright, invigorating freshness, making it perfect for health-conscious customers or anyone wishing to enjoy wine without the effects of alcohol.

TASTING NOTES

In the glass, Aldea Alcohol-Free Verdejo shows a bright straw-yellow color. The nose is expressive, with aromas of citrus fruits such as lime and grapefruit, green apple, and subtle herbal nuances, complemented by ripe grape notes. On the palate, it is smooth, full-bodied, and well-balanced, with lively acidity and a clean, refreshing finish. Its fresh and fruity character makes it an excellent companion to seafood, fresh fish, crisp salads, lightly spiced Asian dishes, or as a vibrant aperitif for social occasions.
