GENERAL INFORMATION

Arzuaga - Aprisco Reserva White is a refined wine from the Arzuaga estate in Ribera del Duero, Spain, made exclusively from Albillo Mayor grapes. The grapes are hand-harvested from the estate's own vineyards and carefully fermented in barrels, followed by 30 months of aging on fine lees, which enhances the wine's body, texture, and aromatic complexity.

This meticulous process produces a wine that is powerful, fresh, and balanced, showcasing the unique expression of Albillo Mayor while reflecting the estate's high-quality winemaking tradition.

TASTING NOTES

The wine displays a pale straw-yellow color with subtle golden highlights. On the nose, it reveals ripe stone fruit, citrus, and floral notes, accompanied by hints of brioche and a gentle mineral undertone from its lees aging. On the palate, it is full-bodied, fresh, and well-structured, with a harmonious balance of fruit, acidity, and a touch of creamy texture. The finish is long and elegant, leaving a clean impression of citrus and stone fruit. Food pairings include seafood, rich fish such as salmon or cod, white meats, vegetable creams, and mild cheeses. Serving temperature: 8–12°C.
