GENERAL INFORMATION

This Oloroso from Delgado Zuleta is crafted from carefully selected musts with greater body and undergoes exclusively oxidative ageing after fortification, setting it apart from an Amontillado. Made from 100% Palomino grapes, it matures for approximately five years in American oak barrels using the traditional solera system. Bottled at 17.5% ABV in 75 cl format, it is a robust, full-bodied fortified wine that embodies the depth and elegance of classic Jerez winemaking.

TASTING NOTES

Amber and crystalline in colour, the nose is complex, offering inviting notes of walnut, hazelnut, and subtle oak nuances. On the palate it is dry, smooth, and rounded, with a long and persistent finish that highlights its structure and richness. This Oloroso is ideal as a companion for hearty main courses, particularly meat stews, or as part of a tasting of fortified wines, where its depth and intensity can be fully appreciated.
