GENERAL INFORMATION

Volver is made from carefully selected Tempranillo grapes from Finca Los Juncas, a 29-hectare vineyard planted in 1957 at 660 metres above sea level. The vines grow on extremely poor, sandy soils with limestone beneath and a surface mix of sand and red clay, producing very low yields of 1–2 kg per vine. The grapes are hand-harvested in an excellent vintage, benefiting from dry conditions, optimal temperatures and minimal rainfall during ripening. Fermentation takes place with indigenous yeasts in open-top stainless steel fermenters, followed by malolactic fermentation and aging in new and second-use French oak barrels.

TASTING NOTES

Intense purple in colour, Volver offers complex aromas of blackcurrant, tobacco and liquorice, with subtle notes of toast and ripe fruit from oak aging. Full-bodied and structured, the palate combines mature fruit flavors with integrated oak, finishing long, balanced and expressive.
